
Port counts are structural FE coordinates, not material parameters or evidence of cost savings.